

The Women in Leadership Network

A free global community of discovery, development and support for women leaders.

The Network is exclusively for women leaders or aspiring women leaders in the humanitarian and development sectors. The Network is a platform to create and drive dialogue, enabling women to build trusted and collaborative relationships by sharing learning, experiences, ideas and exchanges.

REGULAR EVENTS - RESOURCES FOR WOMEN LEADERS - CHAT FORUM - MENTORING

Over 500 women from 50 countries are currently actively exchanging ideas and benefitting from the network.

Through this Network, women will develop more confidence, be supported in their personal growth and career development.

The women in the Network will also support women to foster connections with other women in different countries and across continents, including through peer mentoring. Fostering these connections will support women to overcome personal and professional challenges as well as limiting beliefs and assumptions.

The Network will benefit from hearing from inspirational female speakers on a range of topics identified by the women in the Network as well as create an opportunity for discussion and dialogue.
