Locally-led learning, transforming lives

Our Vision: A world where everyone has the capabilities to handle crises, ultimately saving lives.

We are the Humanitarian Leadership Academy. Leaders in humanitarian education, we empower individuals in the sector with versatile learning solutions for crisis preparedness and response. From short courses and micro-learning to accredited diplomas, and from group working to one on one coaching, our learning is varied and flexible. We provide everything from capacity strengthening support to needs based and self-guided learning, and from face to face support in emergency situations to virtual reality stimulations.

As the go-to learning platform for leading international non governmental organisations like the International Committee of the Red Cross, Voluntary Service Overseas, and MSI Reproductive Choices; our learning is reaching over 700,000 individuals and over 1.2 million people on social media, creating sustainable and transformative impact to local communities across the world.

The evidence we gather through research and data and our contextual expertise informs the work we do. We are constantly innovating with new approaches and technologies, and we ensure our learning solutions are sensitive to the needs of local regions - including culture, language and technological capability.

Elevate your skills with us at the Humanitarian Leadership Academy.
